NOTES ABOUT TOWN.

Attention is directed to the call for a meeting of the Republican Club for Wednesday evening next.

T. Howell Johnson and Wm. Langstroth are spending their vacations in Sullivan County, N. Y.

Lewis Collins and Alfred Cockfair start today for Pike County, Penn., where they will spend a week bear-hunting.

Miss Lizzie B. Irwin has returned from a three months sojourn at the U. S. Hotel, Saratoga Springs, N. Y.

Albert F. Yeutter, merchant tailor, has taken No. 1 Martin Block, and announces the opening of a first class merchant tailoring establishment.

The young ladies of the Church of the Sacred Heart will render the beautiful drama, "Fanny Allen, the first American Nun," on Thursday evening, Oct. 22, 1885, at Union Hall, State street.

The pastor of the Baptist Church preached last Sunday morning on the Glory of Christ that comes through His sufferings. In the evening his subject was The Atonement.

The Sunday School of the First Presbyterian Church will hold their Anniversary next Sunday evening. Mr. S. E. Brodman of Northampton, Mass., will address the school. The usual reports and singing may be expected.

On Wednesday night, Sept. 24th, some of the young people of the First Baptist Church met and formed a society called the Social Union. The officers chosen were: Chas. G. Russell, President; Henry S. Russell, Vice President; Mrs. Anne Baldwin, Treasurer; Chas. Miller, Secretary. The first regular meeting of the society is to be held at Mrs. E. E. Baldwin's next Monday night. At the meeting there is to be singing, literary and other exercises. This society was formed to promote Christian sociability.

The anniversary of the Rosary was celebrated last Sunday, in the church of the Sacred Heart. It was a very edifying sight. All the different societies of the church were present, making a full congregation. The service opened by various hymns, which were followed by a sermon by the Rev. J. M. Nardiello, in which he gave some interesting points on the Rosary. He then recited the Rosary with the congregation, after which a procession took place, consisting of little girls who sang the Litany as they went, all closing with the benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament.

Wedding.

The marriage of Miss Hattie Hall, daughter of James B. Hall of this place, to Samuel H. Smith, of Orange, took place Wednesday evening at the residence of the bride's parents on Montgomery street, and was a brilliant affair. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. O. Pickett, of Mecklenburg, New York, an uncle of the bride, assisted by Rev. S. G. Hubbard, of Orange, grandfather to the groom, and Rev. E. D. Simons, of Bloomfield. The bride was handsomely attired in white cashmere and broadcloth, with a lace veil and white roses. Her bridesmaid, Miss Allie Hall, wore a beautiful white cashmere and pink roses. There were four bridesmaids, and Charles Kellogg, of Philadelphia and W. L. Merriam, of Cleveland were ushers.

Among the very handsome presents received were a sewing machine, solid silver tea, dessert, and table spoons, a full dinner, breakfast and tea set of china, with table linen and glassware from the mother of Third National Bank of N. Y., who the groom is employed, also a dozen solid silver forks from his fellow employees. Two French mantel clocks and many others.

After a fine collation the happy couple started on an extended wedding tour and although the stars were shining brightly there was a heavy shower of rain. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Smith will reside in Rosville where they have a house and furnished for their occupancy.

Obituary.

Rev. Frederick Frelinghuysen Judd, whose death occurred on the 6th inst., was born in Bloomfield, in May, 1821. His father, the Rev. Gideon N. Judd, D. D. was then the pastor of the Presbyterian Church here and resided in the late home-stead of Mrs. Swift, deceased, where his son Frederick was born. His mother was a sister of the Hon. Theodore Frelinghuysen, deceased. His boyhood was passed in Bloomfield and there are many still living among us who remember him as a boy of uncommon brightness and promise. His studies preparatory for College were begun in the Academy, now the German Theological School, and completed under the Rev. John T. Halsey, at Elizabethtown, in this State. He entered Princeton College in the fall of 1836 and graduated with distinction in 1839. After a brief period spent as an assistant teacher in the Bloomfield Academy under the charge of William A. McDonald, he entered the Union Theological Seminary and at the end of the usual course was licensed to preach. While in the Seminary he began to experience the impaired health from which he was seldom afterwards free, and which ended with pulmonary consumption; the immediate cause of his death. In the fall of 1847 he took charge of a boarding school for boys in Berkshire, Tioga County, New York, but the governing wish and aim of his life was to preach the Gospel of Christ, and in the fall of 1861 he accepted a call to the Presbyterian Church in Parsippany in this State, where he labored for several years, endeavoring himself to a remarkable degree to the congregation he served and, indeed, to the people at large where he lived. Like his father before him, the influence of his personal character was a power of good—felt to be such by all to whom he was known. Leaving Parsippany in consequence of his unsuitableness to the state of his health, he spent many subsequent years over churches in Hunter, in Jewett and in Port Henry, New York, deriving advantage from the bracing air of the mountains, to whose impressive and beautiful aspects he was notably and keenly alive.

Wherever known, Mr. Judd was profoundly respected for the most sterling qualities that enter into personal and ministerial character. He was inflexible in matters of principle and duty, genial and delightful as a companion when not suffering from some unusual degree of ill health, against which his life was largely a patient, brave and continuous struggle. He was a scholar of considerable attainments; in literature, in poetry, in music and in painting he had a refined and elegant taste.

The walls of his college rooms were adorned with his sketches, that gave pleasure to occupants who succeeded him many years after his graduation.

No man was more sincere, loyal, loving friend. His desire to be an active and useful minister to the Master to whose service he consecrated his life in the closing year of his college course was incessant and supreme. He delighted in all that was pure and elevated and good and whenever prevented from preaching in the pulpit preached effectively by the daily conduct of his life. His memory, like the memory of his father, is blessed, and will live evermore.

Mr. Judd was married in 1847 and leaves a wife and six children surviving. The funeral services were attended yesterday from the residence of his sister, Miss Mary E. Judd, and his remains were interred in the cemetery in this place.

The Public Schools.

The regular meeting of the Board of Education was held on Tuesday evening at the Trustees' Room, Centre School Building.

A large number of bills for repairs up on the building were audited and ordered paid. The changes made have cost about $1,800. Miss Mary W. Puget was appointed teacher at Berkeley in place of Miss L. S. Woodbury, resigned.

The reports of the Principal was as follows:

The enrollment in the school for the month ending Friday, Oct. 24, was 874, with an average daily attendance of 808, or 91 per cent. Four years ago the enrollment was 798 with an average attendance of 690, or 86 per cent. The increased enrollment appears mainly in the Grammar classes, the High School, and at Berkeley. The pupils are distributed as follows: High School, 48; 1st Grammar, 39; 2d Grammar, 56; 3d Grammar, 79; 4th Grammar, 98; 5th Grammar, 97; Center Primary, 212; Berkeley, 160; Brookside, 87.

The assembling of the High School and Grammar classes was one day late because of the repairs in the building, the 5th class was one week late in assembling, and the 3d was not divided till the 17th of the month, for the same reason.

At the opening of school most of the text-books in the teacher's desk, in 3d class, were missing. At Berkeley the desk in the 1st class room was found broken open and most of the contents missing. The supply closet had also been forced open and a large number of the slates stored there were broken.

The meeting of the teachers for consultation are now held fortnightly, instead of monthly, as heretofore. Special effort is used on these occasions to define clearly the exact scope and purpose of each branch of study and to render available for general use such methods in each one as have been found by experience most serviceable for the real advancement of the pupils. It is hoped that by this means an essential advance may be had in method and in scope in all studies pursued. The improved facilities in the buildings and the complete separation of the Primary and higher classes seem to suggest this effort as peculiarly appropriate. In the general management the advantages of this separation are particularly manifest.

Township Committee.

At the meeting of the Township Committee Wednesday evening, it was decided to renew the contract with the Gas Company for one year from October first, at the same price per lamp as heretofore, and to light an extra lamp at the corner of Sherman and Bellevue avenues. The action at a previous meeting re-establishing election districts was re-considered, and new boundaries established for the first or centre district. The election officers chosen at the last general election were re-appointed. It was ordered that where necessary the trees on streets lighted by gas be trimmed under direction of the public ground committee. Glenwood avenue, from the centre to the M. & E. Depot is to have a top-dressing of broken stone. The posting of advertisements on trees was forbidden, and authority given to remove the same. It was ordered that the Clerk advertise for proposals to lay crosswalks.

Brookdale.

The stone house, with about three acres of land, and barn nearly new, corner of Watching avenue and Broad street, has been sold by Dr. J. A. Davis to Mr. Wirts for fourteen hundred dollars.

The property of Moses Sigler, about twenty-eight acres of land with house recently built at a cost of two thousand dollars, has been sold for six thousand dollars. The stock and fixtures are included in sale. This is a very desirable property, having a good front on Broad street and has woodland on part of it. Mr. Arnbruster of Newark is the buyer. The property formerly owned by James E. Jones on Watching avenue, comprising about ten acres, with house and barn nearly new, has been sold to Mr. E. Kyne, of Orange, who intends improving the place and occupying it as a residence.

There are other places for sale in this locality which the natural overflow of the great cities near us will soon fill up and improve. T. P. D.

Montclair.

An alarm of fire was received at 2 P. M. Sunday, Oct. 4, for a fire at Farrell's, Bloomfield avenue and New streets. The department promptly responded, but were met at the D. L. & W. depot by some of the department officers with the information that the fire was out.

The Montclair Wheelmen held their semi-annual meeting, Monday evening last, at Dr. Wright's office and the following officers were elected. Captain, R. W. Weir; Lieutenant, J. M. McFadden; Secy. and Treas., A. J. Wright. Executive Com., the officers with John Wilde and J. M. Tryon with the Lieutenant as Chairman. After the business was through the club were entertained by some of the lady "cyclers" with refreshments, served at Dr. Wright's residence. The club, which was organized in May, numbers ten, seven bicycles, two tricycles and one tandem. The great need of Cyclers, in this region, is a good cinder track of at least a quarter of a mile. If either of the Associations that are now organizing will lay such a track, they will secure the co-operation of wheelmen.

Miss Frances E. Willard, Pres't of the National W. C. T. U., will lecture in the Congregational Church of Montclair, Sunday evening Oct. 11th, at 8 o'clock. She is one of the most eloquent women speakers of the country.

A Little Wanderer.

Francis Florida, the four year old son of John Florida, living on Bloomfield avenue opposite Corby's quarry, wandered from home on Wednesday morning and walked up through Brookdale about eleven o'clock. Crossing the canal near Day Brothers' store, he wandered about on the edge of Passaic county, re-crossing the canal about a mile further north, and in trying to get through a barbed wire fence in Upper Montclair became hopelessly entangled. His cries attracted the attention of a lady passing in a carriage, who first took the boy out of his coat which was fast to the fence and then got his coat loose and put it on him, and took him to Squire Day who put him in a wagon and after considerable difficulty found his home and had the pleasure of restoring the little truant to his parents, who were almost crazed with anxiety. It was about 6 P. M. when the boy got home and they had been searching for him nearly all day. T. P. D.

Newark Politics.

The Democratic City Convention on Tuesday nominated Mayor Haynes for a second term, Henry A. Haussing for Tax Commissioner, F. L. Wismer for Water Commissioner and Elvin W. Crane for Trustee of City Home.

At the Newark City Republican Convention on Wednesday, Osceola Currier was nominated for Mayor. He is one of the proprietors of the Currier machine works, and from society connections a deservedly popular man. Dr. Hagen was nominated for Water Commissioner, Marcus S. Richards for Tax Commissioner and Dr. Edward J. Ill for Trustee of the City Home.

State Items.

The Camden Post says: "Trenton, although a small village compared with Camden, has two hundred and eleven licensed saloons. It is commonly supposed that two hundred of these are maintained by the Legislature, during the eight or ten weeks' session of that body."

For the first time in eighteen years the Somerset county courts have a murder trial on the docket. Benjamin and Caroline Van Dervier, colored, are accused of beating a lad named Daniel T. Ten Eyck so seriously that death resulted from his injuries. Yesterday's session was consumed by the State, and it will be about four days before a verdict is reached.

Edmund Brown, Receiver of Taxes of the city of Rahway, says that never in the history of the city has so large an amount of money been paid in as early for taxes as has been paid this year.

Spectacles and Eyeglasses.

For References apply to C. F. SCHRADER, Sole Agt. for Bloomfield.

There is nothing to be so much desired as Perfect Sight, and Perfect Sight can only be obtained by using Perfect Spectacles. The Mountain and Bohemian Crystal Spectacles and Eye-Glasses will improve, strengthen and preserve the Sight and keep the eyes cool.

The quality of the Material from which they are made being of remarkable purity, gives them a Superiority for clearness over all other ordinary Spectacles made.

The eye is too delicate an organ to be trifled with, and still people will buy a pair of cheap Spectacles (thinking it is economy), not knowing that they are doing themselves an irreparable injury until it is too late.

The MOUNTAIN CRYSTAL Spectacles are recommended in the Vienna Medical Magazine by the first Oculists and Professors of the world, such as Arend, Jaeger and Spaeth, as the best Crystals for strengthening the eye-sight.
